Thesaurus Poloniae

A fellowship programme of the Ministry of Culture and National Heritage of the Republic of Poland, implemented by the International Cultural Centre in Kraków.

Project idea

The idea of the Thesaurus Poloniae dates back to 2007 and the First Congress of the Foreign Researchers of Polish History which was held in Kraków. This event revealed a growing interest in Poland in different parts of the world and a gap in the then existing offer of fellowship programmes of Polish institutions addressed to researchers who live and work outside Poland. To address their needs the Minister of Culture and National Heritage of the Republic of Poland created a fellowship programme at the initiative of the International Cultural Centre. Since 2009, the Thesaurus Poloniae programme has been run by the Kraków-based International Cultural Centre. The programme is addressed to individuals who carry out research on culture, history and the multicultural heritage of Poland and Central Europe. Researchers who deal with practical aspects of management and the protection of cultural heritage as well as theorists dealing with history, sociology, ethnography, anthropology of culture etc. are welcome to apply and participate in the programme. The Thesaurus Poloniae programme is addressed to researchers who are non-residents of Poland and work abroad. Each round of the programme lasts three months, during which time the fellow stays and works in Kraków.
